Special Parking Restrictions will be in Place near Polling Locations during March Primary Election

~Vehicles without an authorized parking placard may be ticketed or towed~

RICHMOND, Va. – Special on-street parking restrictions will be in place near polling locations on Tuesday, March 1, in order to accommodate chief election officers and those working the polls on primary day. Parking will be prohibited in the following downtown areas from 5 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Tuesday.

- Three parking meters/pay stations on the west side of the Main Library
- All parking meters/pay stations on 9th and 10th streets between Broad and Marshall streets and on the north side of Marshall Street between 9th and 10th streets
- Three parking meters/pay stations on the south side of Grace Street near 1025 Grace Street (Dominion Place), which is a polling location

In addition, from 5 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Tuesday, special parking will be designated on the north side of Palmyra Avenue, as the Hermitage Methodist Home at 1601 Palmyra Avenue is a polling site.

On Wednesday, November 4, from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., all parking meters/pay stations around City Hall as described above will remain restricted.

All restricted meters will be marked accordingly. Towing and ticketing of unauthorized vehicles will be enforced while the parking restrictions are in place.
